SOUTH DAKOTA

STATE ADVOCACY GROUP: SOUTH DAKOTA BICYCLE COALITION

Summary

South Dakota has good federal data on bicycling and walking, ranking above average for each of our federal data indicators. This data balances out poor showings in the Education & Encouragement and Legislation & Enforcement categories to keep South Dakota ranked in the middle of the pack.

To improve its score in Education & Encouragement the South Dakota Department of Transportation, or a similar state agency, could target activities included in our "State DOT Education & Encouragement Support" subcategory. These activities tend to either provide educational materials, or support conferences and events that advance bicycling and walking from a public health or transportation perspective. Unlike federal data indicators, these activities are within the control of the state DOT, or state government if they are outside the DOTs current mission.

Feedback Points

Build on the HealthySD initiative to increase coordination between State agencies and incorporate biking and walking as part of increasing physical activity.

Adopt a statewide Complete Streets policy. The National Complete Streets Coalition has a model state policy and a variety of other resources to ensure adoption and implementation.

Adopt a statewide bicycle plan that addresses each of the five "Es", has clear implementation actions, and performance measures to gauge success. South Dakota is one of 16 states that has never had a statewide bicycle plan. At a minimum, a statewide bike plan should address how the state DOT can create safe long distance bicycling routes on state roads and provide a basis for cooperation on creating safe bicycle networks between the state DOT and municipalities.

Add bicycle safety as an emphasis area in the state Strategic Highway Safety Plan and aggressively fund bike safety projects.

Adopt a primary enforcement texting ban for all drivers that prohibits, at a minimum, writing or sending text messages while driving. As of July 217, 43 states have a primary enforcement texting ban for all drivers.

Provide specific training to engineers and planners on how to plan, design, and implement bicycle and pedestrian infrastructure, including protected bike lanes, safe rural bicycling routes, and other facilities that have become more widespread in recent years. Significant changes in best practices have occurred recently and training is essential to ensuring that communities in your state have access to the best possible solutions for their bicycle and pedestrian safety and mobility issues.

Table with 3 columns: Federal Data on Biking, Rank. Rows: Ridership (0.6% of commuters biking to work, 18/50), Safety (3.4 fatalities per 10k bike commuters, 10/50), Spending ($2.76 per capita FHWA spending on biking and walking, 17/50).

This figure is based upon the Census Bureau's American Community Survey (ACS) 5-year estimate.

This figure is based upon fatalities reported over a five-year period according to the National Highway Administration (NHTSA)'s Fatality Analysis Reporting System and the 2015 5-year ACS estimate of the number of bicycle commuters.

FHWA spending is based upon projects coded using any of three project types associated with bicycling and walking projects through the Federal Highway Administration (FHWA)'s Fiscal Management Information System. To calculate per capita spending we used a five-year average for fiscal years 2011-2016 and the 2015 5-year ACS state population estimate.
